

Don't set my heart on fire

Sometimes you feel like a winner
Sometimes you might feel the love
Sometimes you might feel just like a sinner
And sometimes is not enough (Sometimes the world is)
Sometimes you might feel the danger Sometimes you don't care at all
Sometimes we do feel like we're strangers But sometimes we'd like to call
(And sometimes we build a wall)
We can't forget till now, the feelings that we had But what you try to do now drives us mad
So I say:
No, don't set my heart heart on fire - Nononono (No you must know I am tired)
No, don't set my heart heart on fire -
Not again...

If you think yo are a changer
I you think that you are right
And If you think today that you're a stranger that there is no more delight
And if we can't forget, the feelings that we had Don't try now to do what drives us mad
So I say:
No, don't set my heart heart on fire - Nononono
No you must know I am tired 'cause I got a bad desire No, don't set my heart heart on fire -
Not again...

No, don't set my heart heart on fire - No you must know I am tired
No, don't set my heart heart on fire - Not again..
No, don't set my heart heart on fire - No, there is no more desire
No, don't set my heart heart on fire - Not again..

Sometimes all in love is free Sometimes love is all we need If we don't build a wall – again

No, don't set my heart heart on fire - Nononono (No you must know I am tired)
No, don't set my heart heart on fire -
Not again..

No, don't set my heart heart on fire - No, there is no more desire
No, don't set my heart heart on fire - Not again...