

Tree of love

Why there is nothing yet to come, to be here, to feel alive, to be wiser than before? if we could we would ignore If we forget we loose our dreams
But we know we need belief 'cause nothing is like it seems

For now - just to find the tree of love
Nothing will separate us anymore.
And it teaches us true love - for ever

To find the tree of love, it might just be enough to pray not to forget you, never to forget you you'll find the tree of love, it might just be enough to never to regret to, to sure not to forget you

When we stand together as one we'll see If we all might once be free - if we could realize our dreams Than it might be the time to feel - that the tree of love might heal and it makes us become real - when we break the golden seal

Oh now - we will find the tree of love
Nothing will separate us anymore.
And it teaches us true love - for ever

When you appear your love is healing me, too
And your teaching enlightens our souls to be true
We all realize how you will spread your wings we could see, what will be, when we feel, - we're pure harmony
