

Avalon (And She's Gone...)

This is a tale – an ancient story of Avalon
A world between reality and fantasy
The mystery of an old, old love affair
In the days of King Arthur and Nimue
In the castle of Camelot

I tell you my dream of last night
And she said to me
I will love you till eternity
And I never break your heart, my love
In the name of the holy book – believe me – I tell you

Who's losing the game
When love turns to pain
The dreamer in me had told me – it's burning like a flame
A mirror of mine
In the shadows of time
Merlin said to me
Don't believe in her
In seven nights you will find your way

And she's gone before I found my way to Avalon
My old memory is dying in the night
Where the sun goes down – she told me all her love is gone
The story goes on – my only one – before Avalon

Cool water – blue sky
Emotions or lie?
The rain of illusion told me – white angels never die
A last unicorn
In the eyes of the storm
And Merlin said to me
Don't believe in her
In seven nights you will find your way
