

Look up

Grey the color of all when you're walking through the rain
You go the way on in spite of the pain and you never lose your aim
Blue inside of your heart
'cos you've lost your guiding star
You don't give up and follow the clouds
All the dreams they will depart

Outside in the distance there are waiting miracles for you
Behind the veil you discover the light of the sun shine hold on

Looking up to the sky keep a clear head up high
With all power reach out for the stars
There's someone longing for you to make wishes come true
And the answers to all of your dreams

Just look up to the sky always keep your strong head up high
Just reach out for the stars tear all hindering chains apart

If you believe in the love of your life
You will never be alone
The time will show you now that all struggle and strive
Had never been in vain
